

September 2007

AUBURN, INDIANA. "$500,000 will you bid $525,000" like music the chant of the auctioneer filled the large 400-acre park at the world famous Kruse International Auction on Labor Day Weekend. The 3 day auction event drew crowds from around the globe including celebrities and dignitaries. Car enthusiasts competed to win luxury and collector automobiles with some one of a kind purchases. Litza Lee, Auction Specialists and Professional Ringman, worked the event. Litza's knowledge and ability to interpret in multiple languages is an asset to her abilities to work cooperatively with people from many cultures.

Pamela Rose Auction Company, LLC was thrilled that Litza was interviewed and featured as an expert on ESPN. Litza's expertise and diversity has made her sought after in the auction industry as an expert ringman.

